THE MILARDOZOR

Once upon a time on a little Island, a terrifying creature who was called Milardozor appeared. It was a sort of wolf with an alligator's head and a scorpion's tail. It was really tall, like 4 meters high.

It was created to protect the island where it lived and it was said that every full moon the Milardozor got bigger and more dangerous.

One day, a family of two kids and their parents went to visit the island, but they didn't know there was a monster there and they we're looking for a place to camp. Finally, they found one, so they stayed there and went to sleep.

On the darkest night, the creature woke up and smelt something, it was the little family.

The Milardozor was looking for them, but he didn't find them until one kid woke up and saw it, The kid was shocked and started to scream. The creature heard the kid, found the family and nobody knew what happened after that but one thing is sure all the family members died.

Now you know the terrifying legend of the Milardozor.
